

Rabo Client Council Succession Workshops

Module 3 of Financial Skills Workshops

About the workshop

Would you like to better understand the process of passing on control and ownership of your farming business? Are you grappling with the challenges of fairness equality and harmony?

This one-day workshop will improve your understanding of business transition and succession giving you the confidence to start and progress your farm succession plan.

The workshop is free for all New Zealand farmers and growers regardless of who you bank with.

This Workshop will cover:

- Building confidence to start the process
- Understanding the difference between:
Asset transfer/Business Continuation /
Inter-generational land ownership
- Discovery of all the information that goes into a succession plan
- What support is available and what may be most useful for your business
- How to clarify roles and responsibilities
- How to learn from common mistakes
- What a roadmap may look like
- Identifying the next steps to make real progress

Planning for succession is designed for:

- The decision makers (owners) for any farming business considering a transfer of assets
- Potential Successors and other Stakeholders
- Those considering succession, those part-way through the process, and 'procrastinators'
- A minimum of two participants per business

This workshop goes from 9.00am to 3.00pm

Click here to register now!
Places are limited.

Unable to join these sessions?
Click here to register your interest for future workshops.

Click here to learn more about Rabo Client Councils

For more information go to rabobank.co.nz/client-councils

This Succession Workshop is a Rabo Client Council Initiative